LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

Not in the Movement. Eds. Republican:—The statement published Sunday morning in the Review to the effect that all of the Decatur barbers had signed an agreement to close their shops on Sunday is false. There has been no such agreement whatever, and there has been no concerted action demanding the council to pass an ordinance closing the shops on Sunday. I shops are not in the movement. We would like to be permitted to manage our own business in such a manner as to secommodate our patrons, without the scheming influence of any struggling TRUTH.

Struck by Lightning.

During the storm Sunday evening the esidence of G. Harry Barber, the painter, at 506 East Marietta street, was struck by lightning, and the brick chimney was partly demolished. The family was absent in the country at the time. H.F. Dillehunt, who lives close by, saw the house struck, and a member of his family visited the Barber place to discover that no damage had been done. The doors of the stove were burst open and sahes were blown on the floor.

The latest find of any note is Gen. McPherson's old canteen. A man named O'Brien, of Atlana, Ga., is the finder: It is the same one which the general had on his person when he was killed, and which his person when he was killed, and which bears the imprint of the bullet, so it is supposed, that killed him. THE BOY AT EIGHTEEN. Things He Should Know, Hecause the Great Advantages He Has.

A youth of eighteen, who is to have the best chances, should know how to study, and how to do it with enthusiasm also, because he has learned the leson at least five years before. Enthusiasm, guided and controlled by knowledged as to the use of the powers. is the true life of a living man, alive with the spiritual forces. Everything else is in sleep, or is dead. I make my starting point, and my guiding thought, the thought that he should learn how to study, and should gain enthusiasm, at the beginning.

In the first place, as I think, the study of language may be most hopefully and successfully started in these earliest years. The boy moves joyously where the man finds only labor and weariness. The children of our households today may gain the same thing that we gained at five and twenty, and far more than we gained, when they are ten or twelve; and the progress is like the joyful song of their childhood, when they are led along the rational method. They grow up into French or German, as it were as they grow up into English, and talk, and read, and sing in these languages know that at least three of the largest just as they do in their own. Why should they not breathe cuthusiasm with every breath of their learning? It was with a great price, indeed, that we obtained this freedom. But they were free

> Let me say here that, in my judgment every boy who has the best chances ought to have the mastery of the French or German language (I should say of both) before he is 18 years of age—a mastery kindred to that which he has of English. He should, also, have such a knowledge of Greek and Latin as will mean power in and over those languages. and will enable him to read them with ease and with satisfaction as he enters upon his college course. The man who knows the ancient languages as he ought to know them, will never contend against their holding a place in the education of all widely educated and roundly educated men.

The boy who has the best chance ought, in the years between twelve and eighteen, to be set forward on his course in history and the beginnings, at least, of the literature of his own language. My feeling is that the boys who have the best chances should know something of music, and should, at least, see the opening of the door toward art studies. The opinion is now well established, I suppose, that all persons can be instructed in vocal music with a measure of success. I believe that the same thing can be accomplished in the line of instrumental music

That the mathematical studies should be pursued energetically before the youth has reached the ago of which we are speaking, I may add, is admitted by all The men of the former generations and the men of our day agree at this point.-President Dwight in The Forum.

A Misrepresentation.

The Review, under date of Sunday morning, made a great hoodoo about the manner in which a colored man was treated at the depot Saturday afternoon. The statements as printed in yesterday morning's prevaricator are to the effect that this colored man was attacked by three men and brutally beaten. The truth is that this colored man was tacking Democratic convention notices on the walls in the waiting rooms. This is prohibited and can only be allowed when the person can show a permit granting him that privilege. He was accosted by several gentlemen who have charge of the rooms and requested not to do the tacking without permission. He replied in a manner too profuse to print, and continued in this fever until it was necessary to eject him from the waiting room, In the melee the colored man was struck a blow by one Democrat, not three Republicans, as the Review says, and Hoored, where he lay for several moments unconscious. Had the colored mun done as requested and as was required, all trouble would have been averted; but the Denneorat who has employed him had poured into the colored man's ears statements which were untrue, and hence his resentment of a gentlemanly request. This slanderous sheet also states that "the Fe publicane as a rule love the colored men only when they can use them exclusively." A lie is stamped on the face of this statement, as this case will plannly show. It is the Democrat who can only love the colored man when he has dirty work to be

The Eyman Will. The last will of the late Abraham

Eyman, of Harristown township, dated Oct. 10, 1835, has been filed for probate in the county court. The deceased named James M. Eyman and John D. McGuire as the executors of the instrument. Their bonds were fixed at $10,000. The estate of the deceased embraced eighty acres of prairie farming land valued at $50 per scre; twenty-five scree of timber land valued at $15 per acre; and personal property amounting to $1,100. In his will be bequeathes, first, to his wife, Clarissa Eyman, $1,000 to gether with all his household goods. To his daughter, Nancy Caroline Anderson, $1,000. He also provides that all of his lands, lots, houses, personal property, etc., not otherwise bequestned, shall be sold. And he adds, "I give and bequeath to each of my four sons, James M., Isaac O., Henry H. and Jerome Eyman, one queathed to my wife, Clarisea Eyman, and the $1,000 bequeathed to my daughter, Nancy Caroline Anderson be

FROM WASHINGTON.

Budden Death of Senator Beck, of Kentucky.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE OBSECULES.

Congressional Forecast for the Week-Report of the Committee on Anti-Gerrymandering --- The Civil-Service Investigation Closed.

The Beck Obsequies.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Arrangements for Senator Beck's funeral are nearly completed to-night. The formal an nouncement of his death will be made in the Senate by Senator Blackburn tomorrow, and the Senate will at once adjourn, and on Tuesday the funeral service will be held in the Senate chamber.

To-morrow being suspension day in the House, Mr. Carlisle will not formally announce the death of Senator Beck until after consultation with Speaker Reed, and so it is probable the House will not adjourn until late in the after-After the funeral services on Tuesday the Senator's remains will be taken over the Chesapoake & Obio road, to Lexington, Ky., where the funeral will take place on Thursday. All of the Kentucky delegation in Congress will accompany the remains to Lexington and attend the funeral there. The following named gentlemen, intimate friends of the dead Senator, have been selected by the family as pall bearers, and will also go to Lexington: Ex Congressman Trible, Ex-Congressman Thompson and O. O. Stealy and R. C. Wintersmith, of Kentucky; L. Q. Wash ington and William R. Smith. The usual Congressional committee to ac company the remains to Lexington will be announced to-morrow.

Senator Beck's remains will be taken to the Capitol to-morrow afternoon, and, surrounded by a guard of henor of Senate officials, will lie in state in the Senate corridor until Tuesday noon, The body will then be taken into the Senate chamber, where, at one o'nlock the obsequies will be held. Senator Black.

Congressional Forecast. Washington, May 5.-The great tariff debate opens in the House this week. It is to begin Tuesday, if nothing occurs to interfere, and it will extend through the week, at least, No limit has been set upon the general debate yet, but an effort will be made during the week to pass a resolution placing a limit upon it and that limit will be short. The Republicans talk no retroactive law can be passed. A about setting it at one week, and the retroactive law is always regarded with Democtats ask two weeks. An effort is being made to bring about a compromise on ten days, but with what success remains to be seen. The leaders of the Republican side have consulted among themselves: they have consulted with the Speaker, and they have consulted with the Democratic members of the ways and means committee, but always with the same unsatisfactory result. The matter now rests in the hands of the committee on rules, and a resolution will doubtless be reported from the committee at an early day.

The only other important business to be considered in the House is the business which may come up under suspension of the rules to-day. The Republicans are anxious to call up the River and Harbor bill, and they have pledged the two-thirds vote necessary to take it up, but the Speaker has not said that he will recognize a member of the committee to make the motion to take up the bill, and so its fate is still a problem. What other business may be called up under suspension is a matter of speculation and of no certainty. On Saturday afternoon the House will listen to eulogies on the late Repre-

The Senate business is pretty well mapped out for the week, although several important changes in the programme may take place. The bill fer the admission of Wyoming to the Union is down for consideration to-day, and the Jones Silver bill for Wednesday. If the Jones bill should be taken up as per programme, and the Wyoming bill should not have been disposed of, the lattor will likely be taken up in the morning hour, while the Jones bill is considered after two o'clock. The consideration of the Jones bill postponed if seems any probability that the Republican caucus can come to a agreement. But as matters now stand the Senate will go into the ellver dehate. without any canons action binding the Republican members. And if this condition remains unchanged it is altogether likely that the Sepate will pass a measure which will be in substance a free coinage bill, or rather a bill for the free purchase of bullion. On Sat-uriay the Sepate will consider measures on the calendar. One day during the week will be given to the funeral of the late Senator Book.

Report of the Anti-Gerrymandering Committee. Washington, May 4.—Mr. McComas, of Maryland, yesterday submitted to the House the views of the majority of the House committee on the election of President Vice-President and Representatives in Congress on his bill to regulate in part the time and manner of holding elections of Representatives in Congress, on which the committee weeks ago. The majority of the committee believe, in the light of recent history, that the power conferred by the Constitution on Congress to make or alter such regulations should now be exerted to restrain abuses in the redisble and equal representation of the tives in Congress. As the country voting, counting and return of the election of Congressmen. In States hostile to the exercise of the suffrage by selored citizens, the enforcement of sach laws is difficult indeed. The subject of a National election law is involved in the negro problem. This Anti-gerry bill may be effective in the white States where powerful minorities of white voters are to-day suppressed by shameful gerrymandering. It will check reckless gerrymandering in the black belt and make it easier for Repre sentatives elected there to obtain certi fication of election.

The minority of the committee also submit a report in support of their views. The bill, they say, purports to be aimed at the vice of gerrymandering, and seeks to cut out by the root system as alleged to be practiced by the States, when, in fact, it only transfers the system to the National theater where, we may expect, in this enlarged field to witness its highest development and reap its ripost fruits. It professes to prohibit gerrymandering by the States, but invites its adoption by right to change their districts for members of Congress, except once in ten years, and reserves that right exclu sively to Congress, to be exercised at its pleasure, or upon the demand of party. Mr. Frank of Missouri, signed neither of the foregoing reports. He has drafted a second minority report in which he sets forth his views. He takes the ground that the bill is very wide in its scope, but narrow in its pur poses. It was intended to cover a political exigency for the purpose of perpetuating a party in power. It had never been designed by the Constitution to take away the rights of the State Legis latures to district the States and the exercise by the National Legislature of that power (except in event of a State refusing to exercise its constitutional right) had not been contemplated. No that such an exercise by a National body would be invalid when the State Legislature had exercised its power; but contemplated that action except in a failure to act on the part of the State. Mr. Frank, maintains that the bill, being retroactive is not "the making or altering" of the alteration already made, but is the renealing of regula tions made, and the right to do this may be very seriously questioned. The most cogent reason for his refusal to give assent to the views of the majority is that the measure will be very unpopular and distasteful to the minds of the people who are not lawyers and who are unable to draw a distinction between an ex-post facto and a retroactive law under the Constitution of the United States. Under the constitutions of all the States no ex post facto law can be passed; and under some of them great disfavor, and the people will not sustain Congressional action in the way the bill proposes.

The Civil-Service Investigation Closed WASHINGTON, May 4.—The House committee on the reform in the civilservice yesterday heard the closing argument on the testimony taken in their investigation of the charges made against the present Commission. Representative Ewart opened the session with an argument for the presecution He criticized Commissioner Roosevelt harshly for recommending Hamilton Shidy, the Milwaukee post-office witness, the man whom he knew to be guilty of perjury, for an appointment in the Ommissioner Lyman defended his sction in promoting Mr. Campbell, his brother-in-law. He promoted Campbell simply because he was in the line of promotion and had worked faithfully and efficiently for several years. Mr. Roosevelt defended the Commission for retaining Campbell. The Shidy mat ter, he said, affected only the judgment of the Commission. Shidy abandoned his wrong-doing and did all he could to help the Commission right it. Having failed to secure his rotention in the postal service, they endeavored to have him reinstated so that he might be no worse off for having Jonhson and Fahsel, his associates on the Milwaukee Board, who had not confessed.

In concluding, Mr. Roosevelt said: "It is really remarkable that the most rancorous and mendacious-albeit singularly unintelligent - malevolence, after resorting to every means to pro cure evidence against us, has been unable to point to so much as a single error of judgment on our part. The simple truth is that we are being assailed, not for having administered the law badly, but for having administered it well. There are upright and honorable men who do not believe in the Civil-Service law, and who oppose it on its merits, and fairly and openly; but none of those are to be found in the ranks of our present accusers. Those who are now assailing us hate us for precisely the same reasons that the criminal classes hate an efficient policemen. The best tribute to any measure of the work we have accomplished is to be found in the im potent malice of these men-a malice which does not excite our anger because it is incapable of rousing a deeper feeling than profound contempt."

Changes in the Circulation During

April. Washington, May 4.—The Treasury Department's monthly statement of changes in the circulation during April, shows a net decrease during the month smounting to $480,721. The changes during the month were comparatively authorized a favorable report some slight. There was an increase of $2, 317,786 in silver certificates, and $886, 434 in gold coin. On the other hand there was a decrease of $945,893 in Na tional bank notes; $792,879 in standard silver dollars; $295,240 in gold cortificates; $289,754 in United States notes, tricting of States to secure, first, a sta- and $180.938 in subsidiary silver. The total amount of circulation on May 1 is people in Congress, and then to placed at 31,437,998,1778. The coinage prevent intimidation or bribery of the mints during April past aggre-at elections for Representa- gated in value $5,075,290. The gold tives in Congress. IDLE DECATUR MINERS.

The trouble among the miners of the United Miners' Organization has reached Decatur, but it is probable that whatever differences that may exist will be amicably settled. A secret meeting of the miners was held Saturday evening, when a committee of six was appointed to wait upon Mark Moran, superintendent of the Decatur Coal Company. The men put in full time up to Saturday evening, but this morning none of the men returned to work, and everything was inactive at the two shafts with the exception of the force in the two offices THE COMMITTEE.

This morning the 'miners' com salled upon Supt. Moran at the new shaft and asked for an increase os 5 cents a ton for mining coal, which would make the pay 75 cents a ton. They also asked the company not to ship any coal outside its present district, the object being to prevent the Decatur company supplying points where miners are on a strike. Donahue and McCune were the committee spokesmen.

The answer of the company will be to the effect that the business does not warrant the advance in pay, and that no coal will be shipped to points outside the present district. The miners will hold a meeting this whether or not the miners will return to work to-morrow. It is understood that orders from a di tance were received requiring the miner mittee. It will then be determined to take the action above noted. The Owner of "J. I. C."

Mr. J. I. Case and son, Jackson I. Case of Racine, Wis., wore in the city to-day in conference with Secretary B. Z. Taylor, of the Decatur Trotting Association Mr. Case is the owner of the celebrated gelding, "J. I. C.," whose record on the turf made the owner and the horse famous throughout the country. The trotter is now disabled. Mr. Case is also the owner of "Phallas," another swift trotter, whose record in single heats, best three heats in five and a stallion contest is the best in the country.

This forenoon the gentlemen visited the training stable of W. T. Downing, the stables of D. W. Brenneman & Bro., and had a look at the track of the Decatur Trotting Association, which they pronounced first class. The purpose of the visit was to have a look at "Carrie

THE funeral of the late Charles W. Logan took place from St. John's Episcopal church Sunday afternoon and was very largely attended. The church was crowded. Appropriate music was furnished by the choir, and Rev. Montgomery M. Goodwin read the Episconal burial service which was concluded at the grave in Greenwood where the inter ment took place. The pall-bearers were C. H. Brown, Ed. Wills, William Dodgon, Edward Haines, P. J. Dempsey and Mr. Vaugban. THE Macon County Sunday School

Tue regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Industrial and Charitable

Union will be held at the Woman's Club room to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock. All Solid. Saturday Judge M. B. Loomis, ex-county judge of Cook county, who represented Chicago parties seeking to secure contracts for building the city sewers, which will cost us $160,000, was in Decatur looking up the ordinances and making a personal inspection of the proceedings had in the county court, with a view of determining whether or not everything had been regular and in strict compliance with law. He satisfied himself that there had not been a flaw in the proceedings as taken by the council under the direction of City Attorney McDonald and that contractors can with perfect safety take the jobs with a certainty of getting their money. There is no loophole for lengthy litigation. This investigation by so competent and experienced a man as Judge Loomis was very gratifying to Attorney McDonald and the men who have been pushing the sewer improvements. Judge Loomis is person ally familiar with the details of the special assessment proceedings, and his opinion that all is solid in Decatur is highly complimentary to Mr. McDonald.

ing How He Paid for a Cup of Coffee, The whole of the American colony here, and it is a pretty large one, yearly attracted to this valley by the mildness of the climate, was much interested last Sunday morning in the announcement that the exiled emperor of Brazil was on bis way from Lisbon to Cannes, and that he would stay for a few days here. On his arrival he was warmly greeted by friends and by the crowd of sympathetic sightseers. But no official reception was tendered to the father-in-law of the Orleans Count of Eu in the city which was the cradle of Henry IV, the ancestor and first crowned king of the Bourbon-Orleans family. The exiled emperor was accompanied by a large suite, among them the Count and Countess of Eu. Dom Pedro and his suite entered carriages and were driven to the Hotel Gassion, where apartments had been retained for them.
